INJECTION PRINT

- Offers extra underfoot comfort and exceptional wear potential

SPECIAL FEATURES

PROCESS: Experienced creative teams use design software with advanced 3-D technology to develop precise patterns and inject colourants into the raw rugs.

The process requires little energy or water and produces little solid waste. This advancement is signaling that Injection Print will play a predominant role in the carpet industry in the future.

PERFORMANCE: The colour does not drift or disappear. This is due not only to the quality of the colourant but also the stain and soil protectant. The construction and high-quality fibres are additional durability factors. No doubt about it. This carpet is built to endure!

RECOMMENDATION:

Tiles are a great carpet choice for spaces where there tends to be uneven wear, e.g. where pathways develop. Rather than having to replace the entire carpet, you can simply replace individual tiles in one area, changing the colour, design and texture if you want to add a different look to your space. They are also recommended for smaller areas, particularly where their joints wouldn't be disturbed by heavy appliances or underfloor heating.

PERFORMANCE: Single tiles can be replaced if an area of the carpet is damaged; the others need not be disturbed, can continue performing.

RECOMMENDATION:

If you're looking for great value, a great appearance, and a degree of durability depending on the materials YOU choose, you need look no farther than a hand-tufted product.

HAND-TUFTED

Seamless and Affordable

APPEARANCE

- Wide choice of colours, shapes and sizes
- Wide choice of intricate designs

QUALITY

- Durable
- Life time of 10-20 years depending on traffic
- 100% high quality wool plus your choice of additional raw materials

SPECIAL FEATURES

- Many options for surface and levels
- Many options for finishing
- Seamless
- Require less time to produce
- Spacing between tufts can be varied to produce either tight or loose pile.

PROCESS: No knots. Instead, a tufting gun is used to push loops of wool through a backing imprinted with the design YOU have chosen. When the loops are in place, a second backing is glued on. After it dries, a protective cloth backing is added. Then there's the final step: shearing the loops on the top of the rug to create the pile. Tufted carpets are defined by the weight of the yarn and by the number of stitches.

AFFORDABILITY: Hand-tufted rugs are very affordable because they require comparatively little time to produce.

ADDED APPEAL: They resemble the more expensive hand-knotted rugs.

Stocked Rugs

Exclusive collections for every taste

We at JAMBROS pay attention to the fact that not everyone is looking for a custom-designed rug. Some people want something quickly and are satisfied to look through our inventory to find a carpet that suits their needs.

We have exclusive collections of our finest rugs, impressive for their originality, quality and construction. They are in all sizes, composition, and styles. Whether you're looking for natural fibres, man-made or a blend of both, you will find what you want in our stocked collection. Patterns, classic designs, plain colours—we have them all available.

Concerned?

For those worried that rugs will intensify allergies, we can alleviate your concerns. The Internet is rife with reports about both the positive and negative effects of rugs in a living room or bedroom but, as experienced carpet manufacturers, we support many recent studies that show carpets to be beneficial rather than harmful for allergy sufferers. Why? Because rugs trap allergens, taking them out of the air and holding onto them until you vacuum them up. However, if you have allergies, we encourage you to do your own research.

The other factor

Why add a rug in the first place? Obvious reasons are that it adds warmth, color and style. But there is another factor that most people feel but are unable to explain. What is it? Simply, a rug can help a space feel grounded. It can bring furniture together as one look, rather than leave them like several pieces sitting alone. In doing this, it offers comfort that encourages you to rest easy. The energy in the room slows down, the sound is absorbed, and everything in that space feels united. You can quickly feel safe and cozy—without understanding why. Also, a grounded room invites a more quiet presence. It is difficult to feel disjointed and ill-at-ease in such a space.

Area Rugs

Area rugs are commonly used to add warmth or comfort to hard surface floors, but they can also be laid over wall-to-wall carpet to hide imperfections, bring together colors in the décor, or just be talking pieces.

Colour is the first factor to consider when choosing an area rug; texture is the second. Color is an aesthetic quality, but texture is a little more complicated. Do you want something smooth, or rough, or plush? Do you want the texture of a natural fibre or a synthetic, or a combination of them?

Pattern is also important. Heavily-patterned rugs can add character to a room while hiding worn-out areas or stains that can't be removed.

Durability is another factor, although if the style is great for the room, the rug will still look good when it shows signs of wear, contributing a homey, inviting "lived in" look.

Practical reasons for choosing an area rug include reducing noise, adding comfort, and for those with cold floors, adding warmth. These all contribute to our well-being, a factor in staying healthy.

The only concerns with area rugs are slipping, rippling and buckling. When laid over a hard surface, a rug will slip and slide around. When laid over a carpet, it can wrinkle or buckle and be a tripping hazard. However, these potential problems can be addressed easily by either of the following: (a) anchoring the rug with furniture or furniture legs and/or (b) adding a non-slip pad underneath. There are a variety of non-slip pads available and we can recommend the ones most suitable for your space.

Adding an area rug can reshape the interior of a room and circumvent the need to change furniture or décor. It can be an inexpensive investment with a great return.

Specialty Rugs

We also create many specialty rugs. Their styles and patterns can be abstract, contemporary, have simple or intricate patterns... the options are endless. So are the sizes and shapes. You might have a corner that needs filling, or a space beneath a desk or beside a bed. Or you might want something special for a children's room.

When choosing a specialty rug, it is important to consider the atmosphere of the room. If it is very quiet, you might want a bold design. If it is noisy, you might want something quieter. For a children's room you might want something stimulating and interesting to pique their imagination—or something soothing to put them to sleep!

We recommend that you choose a specialty rug as you would a piece of art, something that will decorate a room while adding warmth and comfort. Also, consider direction. Are you facing north? Choose strong warm colors. Facing south? Choose cooler colors.

Of course, also consider the room itself. If it's a bedroom, a warm and cozy rug right where your feet land will encourage you out of bed on a cold or rainy morning. If it's a living room or family room or any other space with a lot of furniture, make sure it sits on the rug so the rug can pull everything in the room together. You will be surprised by the many effects a specialty rug can have.

Abstract designs on rugs can be great conversation pieces, decorating a room like paintings on a wall. Custom-designed rugs can be like personal souvenirs, making a space feel unique and special. Bring us your ideas and your imagination and we will design the perfect rug for you.

HOTEL & RESORT

Two of our hospitality projects have been Park Hyatt Vienna and Trump International Hotel and Tower Vancouver. Sophisticated and elegant, these two properties are among those which have given us an opportunity to demonstrate our artistry and efficiency in serving the high-end hospitality market.

Visit the Park Hyatt Vienna and you will notice our exquisite hand-tufted bespoke rugs. Contributing to the development of this luxurious hotel was an extraordinary opportunity and we were up to it! If you have a chance to be a guest, we are certain it will be memorable for you too. And while you're there, be sure to take a look at our rugs!

The Trump International Hotel and Tower in Vancouver was another adventure in exceptional taste. The architecture was the brainchild of Arthur Erickson, world-famous Vancouver architect who died in 2009, the same year the hotel project was conceptualized. To him, "Space has always been the spiritual dimension of architecture. It is not the physical statement of the structure so much as what it contains that moves us."

In our close collaboration with the Hotel's Interior Design Team, we were impressed to see how well they were in step with this philosophy, carefully matching every single item with the atmosphere, fabrics, wallpaper, and upholstery. For us, it was an exercise in harmony.

When the Trump International Hotel and Tower was officially opened on February 28, 2017, it was evident it had successfully adhered to another of Architect Arthur Erickson's beliefs: "Great buildings that move the spirit have always been rare. In every case they are unique, poetic, products of the heart."

JAMBROS is proud to have played a part in the furnishing of this "unique, poetic product of the heart."

Manufacturing & Quality Assurance

We are honored to have earned a reputation for creating solutions to meet the specifications of any of our customers while never undermining our quality standards. We know how important it is that our finished carpets be able to withstand heavy traffic so we make sure to use raw materials of the highest standard. We search the world for them and subject them to extensive tests to ensure they meet our promised standards.

We keep in step with colour research and with technological advances in both colour and fabrics in order to provide the appearance and texture you desire. Then we keep watch to make sure that the colours, designs and quality are not being compromised.

Equally important, we check the cut samples that we receive from our manufacturers. They must meet our high standards as well as your promised specifications.

As with all reputable carpet manufacturers, we conduct tests and follow guideline standards to assess the effect of traffic, soiling, staining, and fading. We ensure that many important properties are incorporated to enhance a rug's performance and appearance retention. The two basic methods of providing such protection are topical treatments and inherent treatments. With topical treatments, a liquid or foam spray is applied after the rug has been produced. This method is effective but not permanent because the coating can be worn down by traffic, removed by successive cleaning or even weakened by cleaning. Inherent treatments are added to the fibres pre-production so become a permanent part of the fibre.

Installation, Warranty & Maintenance

INSTALLATION

Our own specialized staff follows recommended practices to install all our products. You can depend on them to carefully choose the correct procedures and tools for the composition and size of your carpet.

WARRANTY

All of our products include a warranty, the length depending on the composition of the carpet.

MAINTENANCE

In order for you to receive the greatest return on your investment, we recommend correct and regular care. There are several issues to consider, including soiling, staining, fading, static and microbial growth.

Of course, it's impractical to place a beautiful rug where it will be exposed to excessive soil. All stains should be attended to immediately, before their dye permanently sets into the fabric of the rug. Fading is the result of excessive exposure to sunlight, or atmospheric factors, or by rubbing when wet or dry. Static can be controlled by maintaining a healthy humidity in the room. Microbial growth can be kept in check by ensuring that rugs are vacuumed and cleaned regularly and that humidity in the room doesn't become too high.

The fibres that compose a rug are the major factor in determining its best maintenance. Fibres can be natural, man-made or blended together in different ratios. Of course, like with choices of wood for furniture and fabric for draperies, natural and man-made fibres and their blends all have advantages and disadvantages. We provide manuals to guide you in the care of your rug, particularly if it has been customized especially for you. And our Customer Care team is always available to answer your questions.

We will work our magic for you using our artistry to conjure up rugs with colors, textures, and patterns from your imagination, or just surprising you with unique and exquisite choices from our exclusive collections. What you envision for your floors we will produce.

We value every opportunity to create rugs that meet the needs and tastes of our customers.
